

31st MUSICA VIVA IN SCHOLA

Oct 17–18, 2023

Department of Music, Faculty of Education, Masaryk University

Tradition and Innovation in Music Education

The conference prefers theoretical papers focusing on research, methodology and didactics. The conference program will be divided into several parts according to submitted papers.

Recommended thematic areas:

A) Musical Folklore Heritage as an Integral Part of Music Education

B) Integrative Music Education as a Starting Point for Educational Practice

C) Music-didactic Approaches to Support Children's Creativity

D) Modern Technologies in Music Education

Conference participants are allowed to submit only one paper, with a presentation lasting up to 20 minutes. The conference papers will be published electronically in peer-reviewed proceedings.

Please write your papers electronically in doc/docx format, Times New Roman, size 12, spacing 1.5, 15 pages max., including abstract, keywords, summary and attachments (if needed). For references, please use the APA citation standard. You will be asked to submit the full-text version by electronic form well in advance. You can do so before the start of the conference at the latest.

The on-line registration form can be found under the link in the e-mail you received. The form is a precondition for accepting papers and can be submitted no later than September 30, 2023.

The conference fee for active participants is 150 CZK / 7 €. Payment will be requested in cash during the conference attendance.